

Mark Day (1956 – 2006)

Alaska resident Mark K. Day, 49, died Nov. 15, 2006, at Providence Extended Care in Anchorage of pancreatic cancer. He was surrounded by his family. As he requested, no service is planned. Mr. Day was born Nov. 25, 1956, in Newport, R.I. He graduated from Barstow High School. He became a resident of Alaska in 1990, living in Soldotna until 2004 and in Seward until 2006. He worked recently as a painter at a shipyard in Seward. He had worked in the oil fields for many years before that. He loved sports and knew everything about the Los Angeles Angels, Oakland Raiders, and Los Angeles Lakers. He loved to hunt and fish; he especially enjoyed fishing at his favorite holes on the Kenai River. Even as his health failed, he took his sons on one last trip down the Kenai. Mr. Day is survived by his sons, Kevin and Ryan Day; daughter, Courtney Bright; mother and stepfather, Alice and George Ferguson; father and step-mother, Lowell and Marjorie Day; sisters and brother-in-laws, Kelly and Mike Lewis, Dana and Justin Dame, Jamie and Andrew Williams, Tracy Ferguson and Ross Massey; brother and sister-in-law, Dennis and Jill Ferguson; companion, Sandy Baker; close cousins, Delana Fernandez, Jimmy and Richard Hillhouse and Gloria Jean Guererro; and many other family members. As he requested, his ashes will be scattered at his favorite fishing hole on the Kenai River. Memorial donations may be made to the American Cancer Society, 1057 W. Fireweed Lane, Suite 204, Anchorage Alaska, 99503 or in care of Alice Ferguson, Denali Alaskan Federal Credit Union, account number 57340.

Published in the Daily Press on November 28, 2006